

Requisition: 365915

Title: Research Associate- Prospect Research Analyst

Area: Prospect Research

Prospect Research Analyst collects, maintains, analyzes and distributes information on individuals and organizations to support development and advancement goals. This position will serve as a research contact and partner for multiple assigned fundraising units within the university to discover new prospects for that area and frequently conduct biographical and financial research to profile current or potential donors to the university for meetings, events and strategy planning advancement purposes including for use by the Office of the President and Senior Vice President of Advancement.